

CALL FOR PAPERS

3RD LILLE WORKSHOP IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

November 08 & 09, 2017

We invite submission of papers for the 3rd Lille Workshop in Political Economy. Papers may be theoretical and/or empirical but should be focused on the Microeconomics of Political Economy issues. The aim of the workshop is to offer a forum to discuss works in progress, not to present papers already accepted for publication in journals.

The organizers will select papers based on their interest and not on their degree of completion. Ph.D. students are invited to submit, subject to a recommendation letter from their advisor.

Submission deadline is June 1, 2017. First drafts (not abstracts) are expected.

The workshop is a follow-up to the 2015 & 2016 workshops, and papers dealing with candidate selection, the role of media, political economy of fiscal transfers, voting rules and other topical subjects are welcome, although this list is not exclusive.

Some limited financial support may be available under conditions in due time, and authors of accepted papers will be notified, priority being given to Ph.D. students.

Location: Faculté des Sciences Economiques et Sociales, Université de Lille, France.

Organizing committee: Mamadou Boukari, Quentin David, Etienne Farvaque, Jérôme Héricourt and Franck Malan.

Supporting institutions: Université de Lille, LEM Research Lab in Economics and Management, Condorcet Center for Political Economy.

Submissions : Send proposals to etienne.farvaque@univ-lille1.fr
